Have you got a good memory?

You’ve already heard of this mythological hero when we study the origins of the days of the week.

Some days come from the planets and the stars

Saturday comes from _ _ _ _ _ _ / Sunday comes from the _ _ _ / Monday comes from the _ _ _ _ _

BUT some days come from the names of gods or goddesses. Do you remember?

…………………… comes from the Old English Wōnesdæg (day of Woden).

* Wōden (or Odin) was the top Norse god.
  He was the god of wisdom, poetry and war
  He was the father of the God of Thunder

It is based on Latin dies Mercurii (Day of Mercury)

…………………… comes from the Old English Punresdæg (the day of Pûnor).

* Pûnor or _ _ _ _ _ was the Germanic and Norse God of Thunder and strength.
  He was the son of Wōden.

\( P = \) an old letter shape. It sounds like ‘th’ in the word ‘think’
